CONSULTATION POLICIES

Children do not come with directions! The normal journey along the parenting pathway is often bumpy, but those bumps can be smoothed out. Betsy Brown Braun, child development specialist and parent educator, provides private consultations regarding children - toddler through teens - on parenting issues, behavior, child development questions, and school placement.

- Individual consultation sessions with Betsy Brown Braun are 50 minutes, unless otherwise specified.
- Telephone consultations are up to 50 minutes. Half phone sessions (25 min.) are available.
- Double consultation sessions are available by pre arrangement and are 1 hour and 40 minutes.
- Betsy's fee is $350 per 50 minute session, whether in person, by Zoom, or on the telephone. Half telephone consultations (25 minutes or less) are $180, only by prior arrangement.
- Betsy' fee for school consultations is $450 per 50 minute session, unless otherwise arranged.
- Consultations normally take place at Betsy's home office or by Zoom. Outside consultations are available, however. Travel time is billed additionally and will be discussed when the appointment is made.
- 48 hours' notice of cancellation is required. Everyone's lives present very good reasons to cancel, but 48 hours allows the time to be offered to another family. Less than 48 hours will incur a charge for the session. Note that this policy excludes weekends.
- The need for consultation about parenting issues often arises suddenly, and parents understandably experience a sense of urgency. Betsy does not offer unscheduled consultations. However, you can leave a short message between 7 a.m. and 10 p.m., and I will return the call to set up a consultation time for as soon as is feasible.
- Without exception, all consultations are confidential.
